

INSTRUCTIONS FOR ASSESSMENT

Use the following symbols when marking the listening and reading papers:

correct answer: +

incorrect answer: –

no answer: 9

Listening

Minor spelling mistakes are not penalised, but the student's intention must be clear.

1 point for each correct answer. No half-points used!

Task 1

1. designer
2. her uncle
3. (straight) skirts
4. (little) black dress
5. (business) suits
6. what people thought/people's thoughts
7. perfume, Chanel No 5 perfume

Task 2

8. E
9. H
10. F
11. D
12. G

Task 3

13. A
14. B
15. C
16. A
17. B
18. C

Task 4

19. isolated
20. melts/has melted
21. (quite) expensive/(very) expensive
22. every day/daily
23. patient
24. four o'clock / 4:00/4
25. challenges

Reading

All spelling must be correct in this paper! NO points must be given for answers which are not spelt correctly. 1 point for each correct answer. No half-points used!

Task 1

- 26. A
- 27. B
- 28. B
- 29. A
- 30. C
- 31. B

Task 2

- 32. B
- 33. C
- 34. B
- 35. A
- 36. C
- 37. A
- 38. C

Task 3

- 39. A
- 40. E
- 41. B
- 42. C
- 43. B
- 44. C
- 45. D
- 46. E

Task 4

- 47. boring
- 48. excited
- 49. different
- 50. lively
- 51. biggest
- 52. actually
- 53. knowledge
- 54. certainly
- 55. possibility

MARKING SCALE FOR WRITING
TASK 1: DESCRIPTION

|          | Task Completion                                             | Vocabulary                                                                        | Grammar                                                                |
|----------|--------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 3 | All three aspects addressed.Logical and clear organisation.    | Vocabulary appropriate to the task. Only a few spelling mistakes.                        | Grammar well controlled.Only a few grammar mistakes.                      |
| 2 | Two aspects addressed.Organisation not always logical.         | Several vocabulary and/or spelling mistakes but conveys the meaning.                     | Several grammar mistakes but conveys the meaning.                             |
| 1 | One aspect addressed.Illogical organisation. Partly off-topic. | Limited vocabulary.Vocabulary and/or spelling mistakes make communication difficult. | Limited control of grammar.Grammar mistakes make communication difficult. |
| 0 | Fewer than 35 words.                                               | Vocabulary and/or spelling mistakes make communication impossible.                       | Grammar mistakes make communication impossible.                               |
|          | Ignores the task.                                                  |                                                                                          |                                                                               |

No paragraphs required.

MARKING SCALE FOR WRITING

TASK 2: LETTER

|                  | Task Completion                                                                                                                                                         | Organisation                                                                                              | Vocabulary                                                                                 | Grammar                                                              |
|------------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 4                | All three aspects mentioned and appropriately expanded.                                                                                                                 | Well organised.Clear paragraphs.Both salutation and sign-off appropriate.                         | Vocabulary appropriate to the task. Only a few spelling mistakes.                          | Grammar well controlled. Only a few grammar mistakes.                |
| 3                | All three aspects mentioned but only two appropriately expanded.                                                                                                        | Mostly well organised.Paragraphs not always logical.Salutation OR sign-off inappropriate.         | Vocabulary mostly appropriate. Several vocabulary and spelling mistakes.                   | Grammar mostly controlled. Several grammar mistakes.                 |
| 2                | Two aspects mentioned and both appropriately expanded.Three aspects mentioned but only one appropriately expanded. May include some irrelevant information.         | Sometimes illogical.Paragraphs missing.Both salutation and sign-off inappropriate or one missing. | Limited vocabulary.Frequent vocabulary and spelling mistakes but conveys the meaning.  | Limited control of grammar. Frequent grammar mistakes.               |
| 1                | One or two aspects mentioned but only one appropriately expanded.One to three aspects mentioned but none expanded.Significant amount of irrelevant information. | Illogical.Paragraphs missing.Salutation AND sign-off missing.                                     | Very limited vocabulary.Vocabulary and spelling mistakes make communication difficult. | Very limited grammar. Grammar mistakes make communication difficult. |
| 0                | Fewer than 60 words.                                                                                                                                                    | Not a connected text.                                                                                     | Vocabulary and spelling mistakes make communication impossible.                            | Grammar mistakes make communication impossible.                      |
| Ignores the task |                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                           |                                                                                            |                                                                      |

Appropriate salutation: Dear Sam/ Hello Sam/ Hi Sam/ Hi!, etc.

Appropriate sign-off: Best wishes/ All the best/ Best regards/ Love, etc.+ the student's first name on the line below

Commas in both the salutation and sign-off or in neither

Listening

Tapescript

TASK 1

Coco Chanel completely redesigned the way women dressed during the 20th century. She took her dreams and turned them into reality on her own, and liberated women from their common stereotypical uniform.

Gabrielle Chanel, as she was known before she became a leading lady in the fashion industry, was born in France in 1883 and grew up in an orphanage. Life wasn't easy for her, but she followed her dreams of becoming a clothing designer. "She couldn't afford the fashionable clothes of the period--so she rejected them and made her own," according to Time magazine. She opened her first, and now legendary, shop at 31 rue Cambon just outside Paris, France in partnership with her uncle. Gabrielle Chanel saved up money for starting the store by performing at the music hall. The store displayed men's pullover sweaters, sailors' jackets, and straight skirts which caught the attention of everyone who walked past the window.

Back in the 1920's, women dressed conservatively and were still thought to be less than men. It was Coco Chanel who took her wild ideas of fashion and ran with them. Her first designer item to be publicly known was her little black dress. She designed this dress using a jersey fabric--which was, for its time, stunning. She used pearls, jewels, and lace to turn an ordinary item of clothing into an extraordinary piece of art. Gabrielle Chanel was later critically acclaimed for her women's business suits, which turned the fashion industry upside down. She had done something no one else had ever dared to try--to turn clothing designed for men and make it into a unisex fashion. Her emotions, thoughts, and expressions were all displayed in her clothing. She didn't care about what people thought or if her styles would be accepted, and it showed in her innovative and spontaneous designs.

Once Gabrielle was on top of the fashion charts, she didn't give up. She continued with her creative ideas and expanded her line by adding jewellery and her still-famous Chanel No. 5 perfume. She continued her fashion line even as she grew older. This is just another reason why Gabrielle Chanel has inspired people to continue to make a difference.

TASK 2

EXAMPLE 0

I'd say my favourite restaurant is something that has a lot of variety. I think it's quite common, maybe in a pub especially, to have food, not only from Canada but from around the world, so you might be able to get some Thai food or Japanese food, but it usually got a little bit of a Canadian twist to it.

SPEAKER 1

I don't really have a most favourite restaurant, I guess. Right now, though, if I have to say what my favourite restaurant would be, it would probably be the Italian Tomato Cafe. They serve a lot of different pastas there. They actually have a really nice one on the menu at the moment with pumpkin and cream dressing, and it's just delicious.

SPEAKER 2

My favourite restaurant would have to be Nando's, actually. They have good choices for different sizes of chicken, from half to quarter to full-sized chickens, and they've got different flavours, which they spread on those chickens, that you can get. The French fries that come with the chicken are also quite tasty.

SPEAKER 3

I think my favourite restaurant right now is Ramen Noodle Shop near where I live. It's my favourite because it's very cheap; it's less than five dollars for one bowl of noodles, but you can actually get as many bowls as you want for that same one price. So, it's very cheap and it tastes all right, too, so that's where I go most often.

SPEAKER 4

I really like restaurants where I feel comfortable and are local, so I'd say my favourite is a family-owned diner called Angelo's. They have a huge menu with almost anything you want on it. The prices are reasonable and it is open 24 hours, so it's a great place to eat at with friends anytime.

SPEAKER 5

My favorite restaurant would have to be a chicken restaurant called Nando's. The menu is predominantly chicken and it's Portuguese style, so it's spicy. You can choose a spice and you can have it in the form of chicken on the bone, or you can have chicken burgers or chicken pitas. It's so very, very tasty and you can choose what different sides you have. It's so very, very nice.

TASK 3

William Shakespeare, famous for his many plays and poems, was baptised on April 26th, 1564 in Stratford-upon-Avon, Warwickshire, England. The exact date of his birth is unknown, but it is traditionally observed on April 23rd.

He was born third out of eight children to John Shakespeare and Mary Arden. William was probably educated at the King's New School near his home. At 18, Shakespeare married 26-year-old Anne Hathaway and the couple soon had three children. They named their oldest daughter Susanna. Two years later, they had twins: a girl and a boy they named Judith and Hamnet. Not much is known about Shakespeare's life in the years between the birth of his children and the first of his plays appearing on the stage. But by the late 1580s, he had moved to London where he was both writing and acting. By 1592, his plays were being performed there but when plague spread through the city, theatres were closed and Shakespeare wrote poetry instead. Theatres reopened by 1594 and by that time William Shakespeare had joined an acting troupe called Lord Chamberlain's Men. He acted in their plays but he also wrote for them. During this period, he wrote many of his most famous works including Romeo and Juliet, A Midsummer Night's Dream and The Merchant of Venice.

After writing more than a dozen successful plays and several very popular poems, Shakespeare's wealth and fame was increasing. In 1599, the Lord Chamberlain's Men worked together to build a theatre they called the Globe. With his own theatre to call home, Shakespeare began to write even more plays.

Plays written after the Globe Theatre was built included Hamlet, Macbeth, King Lear and Othello. The Lord Chamberlain's Men became the leading playing company or group of actors in London. After the death of Queen Elizabeth in 1603, King James became their patron. Now sponsored by the King, they changed their name to the King's Men. In the following years, the plague would spread through London over and over again, sometimes forcing theatres to close for long periods of time.

Around 1610, Shakespeare returned to his home in Stratford where he continued to write. Plays written during this time include The Winter's Tale, The Tempest and Henry VIII. On April 23rd, 1616, William Shakespeare died at his home at the age of 52.

Today, Shakespeare is often referred to as the greatest writer in the English language and is credited with introducing through his work at least 1 700 new words. Throughout his life, he wrote 39 plays, 154 sonnets and a few other pieces. His plays have been translated into every major language in the world and are performed more often than those of any other playwright.

TASK 4

Todd: So Abidemi, you were a teacher in Canada, correct?

Abidemi: That's true, Todd. I taught in Northern Canada in a province called Nunavut.

Todd: So, what was it like?

Abidemi: I really liked it. It was great. Very different from other parts of Canada. Very cold obviously because it's in the far north, and the communities are very isolated. Very few people live there. In the particular community where I lived, there were about a thousand people, maybe less living there. So, everything has to be shipped in by ship that comes in the summer when the oceans melt, and then in the winter, they usually fly them in, so food was quite expensive, housing expensive. Yeah, it was a different experience for me.

Todd: Wow, what's life like that far north?

Abidemi: Life happens, and it's interesting how similar it is to what we have down south in Southern Canada, the other parts of Canada. Like they have similar housing, but you do have to be careful when using water because the infrastructure is a little different. The ground is frozen, so they don't have indoor plumbing. They have plumbing but they don't have running water. The water has to be brought to each house almost every day and sewage also has to be taken away, so you have to be careful how you use water. That's one part. Also, you don't get access to all the things that you want to buy. Sometimes you go to the supermarket, and maybe all the bread is gone, or the milk has not been flown in yet, so you have to be patient with that as well, and you don't get the same variety of products as you would get in larger places, so yeah, then and as winter ... As you get more and more into the winter months, it gets darker earlier, so maybe around four o'clock in the afternoon it's already dark outside, and by the time you go to work in the mornings too, when you're going around seven, eight o'clock, it's dark outside.

Todd: Wow, what was it like being in an environment where you had so little sunlight?

Abidemi: It was hard, but I kind of feel like, I'm used to it. I did spend part of Christmas vacation there, and that was nice. They had a lot of activities outside for community members: ice sculpting, winter games on the ice, Inuit games, different things like that. So it was fun. It was really an experience that was culturally enlightening, if I could say that for me. I really enjoyed it. I really, really enjoyed it, though there were challenges as well. The isolation and the fact that if you wanted to go to other places that weren't in the community, you had to fly out, so it's very expensive to go there.

Todd: Oh, what an experience. Sounds cool.

Abidemi: Yes, I loved it and I would like to do it again.

REPUBLIC OF ESTONIA
EDUCATION AND YOUTH BOARD